UB ACHIEVEMENTS & HONORS

You might have missed . . .

July 15: UB's Athletics Director Jay Moran introduced the new Purple Knights logo. A new UB athletics website has also been developed in conjunction with Presto Sports. The new site, www.ubknights.com, can be reached directly or through bridgeport.edu.

September 14: Gad Selig, associate dean for business development and outreach, discusses the new IncUBator, now open on campus, at a breakfast at the Fairfield Public Library, 1080 Old Post Road, 7:30 a.m. (Reservations may be made online at www.fairfieldpubliclibrary.org, or by phone at 203-256-3160.) The IncUBator was developed jointly by UB, Connecticut Innovations, and the United Illuminating Company. Offices at 250 Myrtle Avenue, on campus, will accommodate up to six technology ventures interested in commercializing technology in the information technology, digital media, advanced materials, clean technology, and other technology industry sectors. For more information, visit www.ctech-ct.org/UB.

Academic Calendar

Friday, September 17

FACULTY & STAFF

BUSINESS

Gad J. Selig, associate dean for business development and outreach, has published, with Christine V. Bullen and Richard Lefave, Implementing Strategic Sourcing: A Manager's Guide to World Class Best Practices, Van Haren Publishing, 2010.

Anton Miglo, associate professor of economics, has published "Empire-Building, Underinvestment and Capital Gain Taxation," in the Journal of Current Issues in Finance 2:4.

EDUCATION

Margaret Queenan, assistant professor of language arts and reading, has been given the Distinguished Literacy Award from the Connecticut Reading Association. The award recognizes those who have made significant contributions to literacy at the state level. The citation lauds Professor Queenan for her "outstanding support to the educators in Connecticut" through her "endless contributions" at the state level. She has served as co-president of the Fairfield Reading Council and the President of the Connecticut Reading Association.

INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE

Yanmin Yu, professor of mass communication, together with two Global Development and Peace students, Yuan Zhang and Navjot Gill, presented a paper, "China and India: Competition, Collaboration, or Compromising?" at the International Symposium on China's Development, Harmony and Softpower, July 30-August 1, at Endicott College, MA.

NATUROPATHIC MEDICINE

Guru Sandesh Singh Khalsa, dean of the College of Naturopathic Medicine, was elected president of the Association of Accredited Naturopathic Medical Colleges (AANMC) at its board meeting during the American Association of Naturopathic Physicians convention in August. The board is composed of the leaders of each of the member schools. The AANMC represents all of the accredited naturopathic colleges in the U.S. and Canada.
